

2.75 Gyr

10 kpc

A horizontal comparison of two astronomical images of a galaxy at 2.75 Gyr. The left image is a blue-toned map showing a diffuse, irregular galaxy structure with a central concentration. The right image is an orange-toned map showing a more compact, centrally concentrated galaxy. A scale bar labeled '10 kpc' is in the bottom left of the left panel.